Review

"How refreshing to have a whole book on the subject and one that goes very deep! How refreshing to have someone who knows his subject inside out, explain it. ... Bob Makransky has written the definitive book on Planetary Hours. It's the best book on the subject out there. It will be read and studied by future generations of astrologers. Its not just something that you read and discard. You want it in your bookshelf to refer to again and again." - Joseph Polansky, Diamond Fire magazine

"Bob Makransky's new book ably taps the rising vogue for traditional astrology, though eschewing the fatalism often assigned to so-called 'magical' ancient approaches. He describes Planetary Hours (PH) as the "astrology of luck" and a method of finding empowering life moments for the proper exercise of freewill - to be yourself and not an enslaved cog of convention, Makransky explains in this admirably lucid guide book. Having talked us through the system he then examines PH's application in natal charts, electional astrology and magical spells before tackling the Firdaria system - which 'divides a person's life into periods...of time ruled in turn by each of the planets in Chaldean order'. As an introduction, this book is highly accessible." - AA Journal

About the Author

Bob Makransky is a systems analyst, computer programmer, and professional astrologer. For the past 38 years he has lived on a farm in highland Guatemala, where he is a Mayan priest and is head of the local blueberry growers' association. Bob became interested in magic at Micky Russo's Spiritualist Church in San Francisco in the 60's, but it wasn't until twenty years later that he began channeling spirits himself. He moved to Guatemala in the early 70s and started a farm which operates on principles akin to Rudolf Steiner's Biodynamics, but with a Mayan slant. He became involved with local Mayan priests because of Mayan calendar software he had written, which they had adopted, and he was given a ritual to invoke Mayan spirits himself. He studied Mayan astrology and shamanism and performed ceremonies with his teacher, don Abel Yat Saquib, until don Abel's death in 2009.

PLANETARY HOURS BY BOB MAKRANSKY PDF

The Planetary Hours are an ancient astrological system for selecting favorable times to act (and avoiding unfavorable times), by assigning planetary rulers to the twenty-four hours of the day. This book has easy-to-follow instructions for finding your birthday and birth hour rulers, and clearly explains how these determine your personality and your luck. A chapter on electional astrology explains how to use the Planetary Hours to find lucky times to act (to ask for money; to ask someone on a date or to marry; to go on a journey; to begin a new business). The chapter on How to Cast Spells gives the low-down on how to make magical spells (and prayers) really work, using simple astrological techniques. The use of the Firdaria, an ancient astrological prediction system which indicates positive and negative periods during a lifetime, is illustrated with a detailed analysis of events in the life of Theodore Roosevelt. Complete Tables of Planetary Hours at the end of the book allow you to find favorable times to initiate activities for any day of the year, and for anywhere on earth from the Equator to 58 North and South latitudes. Ideal for any level of astrologer.
